

Power Train Savers

Are you continuously breaking differentials, gears, axles and driveshafts? Is the bottom line suffering from hours, days or even weeks of truck downtime?

When driveshafts break, a common fix is to make the driveshaft bigger. However, this is not actually solving the problem because in effect, you have just made the next component in the powertrain (an axle or differential) the new weakest link. Choose the proven solution to protect drivetrains from unwanted over-torque damage.

These patented drivetrain protection devices easily mount right into an existing driveshaft, and you can drive with confidence knowing our precisely calibrated Torque Fuses® will absorb the impact in an over-torque situation by shearing before any drivetrain damage can occur.

This powerful drivetrain defense helps you:

- Avoid costly repairs to drivetrain components
- Eliminate roadside and repair shop downtime
- Enjoy lifetime protection

Power Train Savers work on all shaft-driven equipment:
